THE CITY IN BRIEF

Waiting for the Report.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

John Ryan and his wife, Alice Ryan, of No. 411 Date street, arrested last night while carrying a mattress out of a furnished house at No. 627 Date street. The mattress was held as evidence in the case. Ryan and his wife were intoxicated, and say that they got into the wrong house.

New Civic Awakening.
The Federation of Women's Christian Temperance Unions will hold an all-day meeting at the Recreation Center, Holly and St. John streets, tomorrow. The general topic of the meeting will be "The New Civic Awakening," and addresses will be made by E. J. Lickley, director of compulsory education for the city, and by A. C. Dadds, probation officer.

Presbyterian Banquet Tonight.
The Presbyterian Lay Association will tender a banquet tonight at the Hotel Westminster to Rev. A. W. Halley of New York, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions; Dr. H. G. Underwood, who was the first missionary to Korea, and Rev. William C. Leitch of Chicago. A reception will precede the banquet, at which Dr. John Willis Baer will preside.

Mining Man Takes Bride.
George F. Hodges and Miss Anna Bales were married yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the main parlor of the Hotel Nadeau by Justice Pierce. Mr. Hodges is a well known mining man of Yuma, where he has interests in the Long Star and several other valuable properties. His wife and her mother, who accompanied her here, are residents of the same city. After a wedding dinner, the couple left for the north, on their honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges will probably make Los Angeles their permanent home.

What Will He Feed It?
Charles H. Smead, chief clerk at the Hollenback, who has been acting as manager of the hotel in the absence of John S. Mitchell, received the surprise of his life yesterday morning when he opened a small box, addressed to him from Mexico City, where Mr. Mitchell has been living for more than a month. The box contained an armadillo. While awaiting the arrival of Mr. Mitchell or the acceptance of the creature by some one needing an animal with its peculiar characteristics, Mr. Smead is anxious to know what to feed it, an item which the encyclopedia overlooked.

VERKES' EXECUTOR FACING REMOVAL.

WIDOW OF TRACTION MAGNATE MAKES CHARGES.
Ultior Motive in Deposit of Mortgage Bonds Alleged, as is Also Attempt to Sell Property Contrary to Will—Refusal to Give Desired Information Charged, in Addition.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mary Adelaide Yerkes, widow of Charles T. Yerkes, traction magnate, filed a petition before Judge Charles S. Cutting in the Probate Court this afternoon, asking the removal of the executor, Louis S. Owsley, on the ground that he has wasted and mismanaged the assets of the estate. A number of charges are made, the chief of which is an allegation that Mr. Owsley's motives were not of the best when he agreed with a committee in October, 1927, for the deposit of $4,854,000 in general mortgage bonds of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Company as part of a plan of the organization of that company. Other charges are that Mr. Owsley attempted to sell certain real and personal property contrary to the direction in the will, which provided that the property should be transferred to a corporation for the purpose of establishing an art gallery, or art gallery in New York. Judge Cutting says the sale, if concluded, would defeat the direction and purpose of the testator. It is further asserted that the executor has refused to give the petitioner's attorney information as to the condition of the estate and its securities, and has sought to embarrass the petitioner, Charles E. Yerkes and Benjie Rondinella, son and daughter of Mr. Yerkes, and her stepchildren.

MAYOR IS THE STAR GUEST AT BUSINESS MEN'S FEAST.

City's Chief Executive Given an Ovation at the Annual Banquet of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association—Unity, Harmony and Confidence the Keynotes of Last Night's Representative Gathering.

AS AN HONORED guest, Mayor Harper was at the annual gathering of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association at Levy's last night. The members greeted him heartily at the little reception held prior to the dinner, and showed their evident sympathy with him in many ways. When he was asked to speak by the toastmaster, the whole assemblage broke into prolonged applause, and his brief, characteristic talk was listened to with close attention. His moderation, forbearance and strong loyalty to this city seemed to strike the right note. He referred indirectly to the many attacks made upon him, but seemed to bear no malice or reproach. His words were of the splendid progress of Los Angeles, of her unrivaled reputation in the country, and his fear lest misguided ones mar her fair fame by uncalled-for assaults.

He was introduced by H. W. Frank, toastmaster, as a business man and the son of one of the city's pioneer merchants. He said that he appreciated the honor of being present at such a gathering, where the representathe Owens River project, the free harbor at San Pedro, and the promised commercial supremacy of this section, awakened a warm response. Roll-calling stories were told and harmless jests were indulged in.

An unlooked-for feature was the presentation of a substantial sum of money to Secretary F. J. Zechandelaar, in anticipation of his four months' trip abroad this summer. In his presence the toastmaster then introduced F. O. Tyrrell, who took as his subject "Business Unity." He said in substance: "Not the unity of the ice field, everything frozen solid, nor of the graveyard, all unity, silence and pathetic dust; but the unity of an

He attributes the extraordinary progress of Los Angeles to solidarity of interests and to civic loyalty, and speaks of a time when the city had no defamers.

tive merchants and manufacturers met together in harmonious accord to plan how to make this city better and stronger in her civic life, and to add to her many industries and mercantile enterprises.

This was the keynote of the evening—unity and harmony. The 300 members who sat down to one of Levy's enjoyable dinners put aside business rivalry and ambitions. The older ones became reminiscences of the olden, golden days, and the younger men spoke of some of the things the future has in store for Los Angeles. References to entation speech, R. W. Burnham paid a high tribute to the integrity and ability of the man who has served the association as secretary for twelve years.

At the head table sat the Mayor, the toastmaster, speakers, directors, and officers of the association. Sweet peas, carnations and greenery formed an effective decoration.

The dinner was served shortly after 6 o'clock. All present were in ordinary business attire.

In opening the post-prandial exercises, Toastmaster H. W. Frank said engine, or better, of the steam in the cylinder pushing that engine's piston, and turning its whirling wheels—that is the unity Los Angeles business men seek.

"There must be first of all, a unity of spirit. Rivalries, antagonisms and animosities are ruinous in a community as well as in a firm or in a family. There are certain particulars in which all merchants, all bankers, all manufacturers, in short, all the residents of a given city or section, have a unity of interests. No matter how warm their friendly rivalry, they must utter themselves as against competing cities or sections, they should show a solid front. They are all benefited or hindered by the same agencies, and should therefore make common cause against a common foe.

MANY VITAL POINTS IN ANNUAL REPORT.

BEFORE the after-dinner speaking began, the result of the day's directorate election was announced by Secretary Zechandelaar, who was given an enthusiastic reception. The new members of the board are: Frank A. Bawles, Fred W. A. Delmar, M. A. Hamburg, John Kahn, Francis Newmark, C. H. Plummer and A. W. Redman. In the unavoidable absence of President J. M. Schneider, the secretary read the annual report.

It made a brief mention of the uncertain financial and commercial outlook at the beginning of 1908, and contrasted the doubt and misgiving then felt with the confidence and optimism manifest at the present time.

"It is an old saying that every cloud has a silver lining," the report continued, "and I can congratulate Los Angeles tonight that the silver lining displayed at the beginning of 1908 is of the brightest and most attractive hue. Optimism has rapidly succeeded pessimism, and business conditions have recovered sufficiently to bring us within the reach of prosperity once more." (Applause.)

"In a certain sense, we are all sufferers of fortune, who know no doubt, we admit that an obstacle is too great to overcome, and when our surroundings look the darkest, we find our arms and prepare for the many struggles that finally bring absolute victory. That gentlemen, in our condition today, never having lost faith in the advantages and opportunities of our fair city of Los Angeles, never questioning the fact that we are steadily progressing, never doubting the future of the city we all love, we are prepared to meet emergencies that may arise, and face the year of 1909 with a strong conviction that the next twelve months will be again recorded in the columns of this month's report in this country's history. (Applause.)

"The wholesale trade has shown a marked increase in volume of business over the preceding year, and the retail merchants were certainly surprised at the liberal expenditure of money, during the recent holiday season. Many business firms have, as yet, not struck off their balance sheet covering the past twelve months, but I venture the assertion that when the books for the past year are closed, they will divulge the pleasing and surprising fact that they have made nearly, if not as much money as in 1907, or even 1906, the latter being considered the banner year of our prosperity.

"Manufacturing enterprises probably have felt the depression of business more than any other line of work, to the limited demand of products during the temporary stagnation, and the condition is quickly responding with the return of confidence, and the manufacturing plants are again running to full capacity.

"Let confidence be the watchword of the coming year and let us stand engine, or better, of the steam in the cylinder pushing that engine's piston, and turning its whirling wheels—that is the unity Los Angeles business men seek.

"There must be first of all, a unity of spirit. Rivalries, antagonisms and animosities are ruinous in a community as well as in a firm or in a family. There are certain particulars in which all merchants, all bankers, all manufacturers, in short, all the residents of a given city or section, have a unity of interests. No matter how warm their friendly rivalry, they must utter themselves as against competing cities or sections, they should show a solid front. They are all benefited or hindered by the same agencies, and should therefore make common cause against a common foe.

"Business unity, however, must be more than a matter of sentiment, valuable as that is; it must utter itself in well-conceived effort; it must speak by organization. The only difference between herap iron and an engine is organization. Such organizations as this, together with the Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Mines, and other organizations, spring up inevitably as the powerful armor in the grasp of a Hercules; they incarnate the spirit, and until they do, the spirit is dissipated, and ineffective.

"United, the business men of the city can larlet the Owens River, and drag it into our midst, and yoke it to our factories; they can toss aside the barrier to a free harbor, like tinsel bangles in the grasp of a Hercules; they can invite the plethoric abundance of the four corners of the world to nestle in the financial center of the State, in a strong contrast to the old wild (Applause.)

"On BANKING.

J. M. Elliott, president of the First National Bank, referred in an interesting way to some of his early experiences as a banker in this city. He referred to the financial depression of 1907-8 as possibly a blessing in disguise. It has taught you merchants and manufacturers that if you stood by your banker, he stood by

HERE'S THE MODEL HUSBAND.

Gives His Wife Everything and Works for Her for Nothing in Her Store, He Says.

Edward Heinemann, son of a dead pointer druggist, qualified yesterday as the most model husband in Los Angeles—especially from the wives' viewpoint.

Brought into court by one of his creditors on supplemental proceedings, he told the remarkable financial details of his domestic life.

"I have given my wife everything I possess," he said.

"What do you do for a living?"

"I work for my wife, clerking in her drug store."

"What does she pay you?"

"She does not pay me anything. I work for nothing."

"What do you do for money?"

"I have no money. I give all the money earned every night to my wife."

Compared with Mr. Heinemann, the famous Patient Mercy Jones was a cross old croke. If he had known about Mr. Heinemann, President-elect Taft would have never made that speech commending old maidhood.

NOT SURE.

COUNTY MIGHT BE UP A TREE.

WHO WOULD PAY IF OFFICIALS WERE TO SKIP?

Worthless Bonds Bring Opinion from District Attorney and Courts May Call on Place-Holders to Provide New Surety or Vagabond Positions—Large Sums Involved.

The sudden and mysterious will that seems to have afflicted the Metropolitan Surety Company has left this county temporarily unprotected against possible dishonesty of its officials.

Such officers as the County Treasurer, Sheriff, County Assessor, the constables and others who are responsible to the county for vast sums of money are practically under no bond at all, owing to the blow-up of the surety company.

In these amazing circumstances, one of the constables, J. D. De La Monte, has appealed to the District Attorney for advice, feeling that the present situation is not fair to the public.

Yesterday, Chief Deputy Hartley Shaw delivered a written opinion in reply to the letter. His opinion is that the situation belongs before the Superior Court, whose judges should summon the officers bonded in this company and require them to give new bonds. He holds that the officers now bonded in the Metropolitan concern are not required to do anything until cited to go into court to show cause why their offices should not be vacated.

It is evident that, since going into office, most of the county officials have been sufficiently bonded, and that the county would have had a grand time recovering anything if any of the officers had fallen from grace.

The local agent of the Metropolitan Company is Charles A. Tait. He stated to a Times reporter yesterday that the company is in the hands of a receiver, and that its fidelity business has been turned to the American Bonding Company. He says it is, and has been, only a small company, with but $200,000 capital stock, and with $40,000 surplus.

The Sheriff alone is bonded in this company for $20,000, and the County Treasurer for $150,000.

The superior judges passed on the qualifications of the bonding company. As is customary in such cases, they took the indorsement of the insurance commissioners as final.

The first intimation had out here that the bonds are not sufficient and that the county is not assured against its officials, was the reports published in some of the financial journals that the Metropolitan Company was under investigation in the East.

It is rather a tribute to the good faith of the officials thus bonded that in the agitation has so far been stirred up by themselves. Treasurer Hunt and other officials have immediately taken steps to provide bonds in other companies and the opinion of Mr. Shaw states that he understands the Metropolitan Company has re-insured its outstanding bonds with other companies.

LAWLESSNESS.

VICE DELAYING OUR AQUEDUCT.

Disgraceful Conditions at Mojave Painted.

Camp Employees Robbed and Lives Endangered.

Saloons and Gamblers Share Ill-Gotten Loot.

As a result of an outbreak between police and Los Angeles aqueduct employees at Mojave, the work in the important camps is embarrassed and several Los Angeles men are in jail. The prisoners declare that the officers made a vicious and unprovoked assault upon them. The officers say they were determined that the aqueduct employees should be taught that they cannot run the town.

There has been much irritation on account of the effect of Mojave life upon the aqueduct work. The town is wide open. The saloons never close. Roulette, crap shooting, card games and slot machines are continuous performances. Nobody goes to church—there is no church—but everybody patronizes the saloons, where gambling is carried on openly. No State laws apply to Mojave. The saloons, also, are sleeping places for laboring and working men who have been "blowing themselves."

Aqueduct employees of all grades assert that fellows of the worst type are protected because they help to "unload" the genuine workmen and thus secure a profitable business for the place. As soon as a workman is "broke," he is either driven out of "flush" money by the Mojave saloons, or he is thrown into jail. "Moochers" and hold-up men remain from one aqueduct monthly pay day to another. Groups of them have shotters made out of railroad ties along the line of the Southern Pacific. They have raided the cook houses on the aqueduct several times and stolen provisions.

LIVES IN DANGER.

For months past it has been safe for any one to walk alone from an aqueduct camp to town through the sagebrush at night. It is still more dangerous for an aqueduct employee to "flash" money in a Mojave saloon. Several of the employees of the city of Los Angeles have been frightfully beaten and then robbed. A concrete shift boss in the camp of steam shovel No. 1 had this experience.

LIEB OF EAST WOMEN.

The town has a number of respectable houses, and to bring the women of these joints more faintly before the employees of the aqueduct, a dance hall was opened last Saturday night. The "event" was timed to catch the monthly pay checks, but, as is usually the case, the checks were tardy and the town was not crowded with workmen with money in their pockets. Nevertheless, there was a good attendance of employees, and the night was a success. The employees of the aqueduct are in the habit of coming to town to get their pay checks, and the night was a success. The employees of the aqueduct are in the habit of coming to town to get their pay checks, and the night was a success.

Among these present was the hospital steward from the headquarters camp, a young man who frequents the saloons with regularity, stands well in the town and is known among the aqueduct men as the "pill peddler." Among the men who were "taking in the night" were Gus Walters, concrete foreman of Mesamer's camp (steam shovel No. 2), Bob Cananda, concrete mixer engineer in Robinson's camp (steam shovel No. 1); C. E. Gill, concrete foreman in the same camp; Hiram Hilly, from Mesamer's and Paul Gresh, concrete finisher and son of F. J. Gresh, who finished the dam-fall sawyer in Los Angeles, where he has a home at Forty-seventh street and Hooper avenue, and who is now in charge of important aqueduct work at Jawbone.

Canon has made a reference to the "pill peddler" in the hospital steward's hearing. The party then went to the dance hall and upon leaving it, the steward and several other employees awaiting them at a corner. The steward asked Canon whether he meant to go to the dance hall with him. Canon replied the steward could "take it or not." The men then set upon Canon and a fierce, general fight ensued. The assailants did not say they were officers and showed no stars, but turned out to be the Mojave police force. The aqueduct men say they believed it was a hold-up fight. Canon pulled a gun, but did not shoot. He was overpowered and handcuffed. The four others were arrested, but not before Gilroy had seriously damaged the hospital steward. Phil Gresh, part of the affair was that of attempting to make peace between Canon and the steward, but he was like the others, in charged with assault upon officers of the law. Walters and Canon are needed in their places on the aqueduct and their absence, even during a trial, will embarrass their camp superintendents. These superintendents, having had now many bitter experiences, are more earnestly than ever in accord with the Aqueduct Commission, in advocating the removal of the town from the aqueduct from encroaching within a four-mile limit of any public work.

DRILLING AT SANTA PAULA.

Charles Grosse of the London and Paris Bank of San Francisco was in Ventura last week and said he represented the Santa Paula Saltcoy Oil Company, composed of San Francisco capitalists that control the output of oil on the Santa Paula. Santa Paula, an old Mexican grant of 27,000 acres, on which is the townsite of Santa Paula. He stated that his company would soon drill near Santa Paula and probably right in the town itself. It is said to be a fact that the old right of the big ranch was disposed of years ago by a former owner of the grant, named Briggs, and this is what Mr. Grosse claims his company has acquired. Most of the ranch is utilized for bean and fruit raising, and many people have begun within its boundaries.

STOCKHOLDERS IN RIGHT.

George Calhoun, president of the National Oil Refining & Manufacturing Company at Kern River, has just returned from the stockholders' annual meeting at Phoenix. It was a stormy session, according to Mr. Calhoun. Chicago and Wisconsin shareholders tried to oust him from the management, but he was able to win by 20-000 votes, electing friendly directors as follows: J. H. Woodman, New York; Frank Griswold, Fremont, Neb.; Edwin A. Clark, San Diego; Lloyd K. Jones, Denver; H. Kolmer, George Calhoun and George W. Calhoun, Bakersfield. Mr. Calhoun says he hopes the company will be able to pay its first dividend in the spring. It is not a producer, merely a refiner.

KILLED BY CAR WHEELS.

Man Stealing Hide on Freight Train Falls Off and Is Run Over.

W. McKenzie, a laborer, 45 years of age, was run over to death under the wheels of a Southern Pacific freight car at the San Fernando road and the city limits yesterday morning.

McKenzie was stealing a ride at the time of the tragedy. He was discovered by a brakeman and was put off, but in some way managed to catch the car. He secured a hold on the bumpers, but lost his grip and dropped down between the cars.

The train crew heard the man's cry, and an investigation was made. The wheels had passed over the body at the hips, causing instant death.

The remains were taken to the Pierce undertaking parlors, where an inquest will be held tomorrow.

PISTOL DUEL AFTER DARK.

Deputy Sheriff and Two Supposed Hold-up Men Have Battle—No One Injured.

In a pistol duel between Deputy Sheriff Walter Leonard, who is an employee of the Los Angeles Transfer Company, and two men, whom he believed intended to hold him up at Avenue 21 and Pasadena avenue about 10 o'clock last night, a dozen shots were fired. None of the principals was injured and the two men escaped after a long chase.

Leonard had been visiting his sister, who lives on Avenue 21, and was on his way home when he noticed the men standing behind trees. As he approached them, he drew his revolver. He stepped behind a tree when within a few feet of them, told them to step out onto the sidewalk and to show up their hands. They obeyed. While he was searching one, the other suddenly drew a gun and fired. The bullet passed through the officer's overcoat, but did not touch his body.

The men ran across the street and Leonard fired at them. They returned the fire and then began a running fight.

They turned into Downey avenue and made for the Downey bridge. At Downey avenue and Avenue 19, Leonard rushed into a saloon and secured another revolver, his own being empty. When he returned to the streets the fellows had disappeared and no trace of them could be found.

POLICEMAN'S STAR FOR FANNIE BIXBY.

Miss Fanny Bixby, long back helms, who has been appointed a deputy constable.

FANNIE BIXBY, one of the most popular girls in California, became a full-fledged policeman when she was appointed as such by the Los Angeles Police Department. She is the first woman to hold this position in the city.

Her work, however, is strictly strenuous. Not long ago, when young women were being thrown into jail at Long Beach, and there was no one but men to look after them, Miss Bixby volunteered to act as a police matron without pay, and received the appointment.

Very recently (and this probably has something to do with the latest appointment) she has been made guardian of two unfortunate girls who are in a terrible plight. Orphans since childhood, they have lived and struggled together, moving from place to place, finally landing at Long Beach. One of the children is only 15, but secures five young men of felonious assault; the other girl is 18, and is about to become a mother. Miss Bixby has taken charge of them and has, in consequence, thrown various fast young men of the beach towns into spasms.

BAKERSFIELD PLANS WAYS TO OBTAIN PROTECTION.
Narrow Escape from Inundation During High Water Trouble Leads to Decision—Minor Adversities for Wife With Sad Results—Woman and Cash Disappear Simultaneously.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 17.—The narrow escape of the city from inundation during the high-water scare of Thursday has revived the agitation for more and better levee protection along the south bank of Kern River. A meeting will be held Wednesday night for the purpose of discussing plans and outlining a course of action. Two suggestions are made. One is to form a levee district, which will include the territory that will be benefited. The alternative is to construct a levee road extending from the river bridge on the Rosedale road west of the County Hospital to the bridge north of town and possibly on to the Kern River bluff. The latter plan was considered during the flood scare two years ago and the viewers estimated the cost at about $3000. It is favorably regarded in view of the scenic advantages. It would afford a boulevard along the river and at the same time give protection against high water. Francisco C. Courtney, Ford of San Francisco, and C. N. Post of Sacramento, two enthusiastic field trials followers, are here in anticipation of the season's work. Both have dogs in training at kennels west of town.

COSTLY EXPERIMENT. Vincent Farmer's first attempt at matrimony has been costly. Last week Farmer, who is a Mojave miner earning $3.50 a day, came here with the savings of many months and advertised for a young woman to share his home. A demure young lady of 29 came down from San Francisco yesterday. She introduced herself to Farmer as Miss Clemence Barrot. He quickly decided that she was his affinity and the Deputy County Clerk was hustled out of bed to write out the license. Farmer tonight is bewailing his ill-luck. A pretty wife has fled and $200 of his hard-earned cash is missing. Farmer is not discouraged, however, and says he will not go back to the desert until he finds the right kind of a woman to watch over his pot of boiling beans.

Every ounce of flour that goes into Bradford's Bread is first sifted through sterilized silk.

This precaution utterly eliminates every possibility of any foreign substance remaining in the flour—even though we use tons of flour daily.

the cleanest bread in Los Angeles. We require our makers to bathe daily—to put on clean clothing daily—and to hold a physician's certificate of perfect health.

KINDLY GRASPING.

"WORST BEGGAR" IS BELOVED.

CLUBWOMAN SAVES CHILDREN FROM FACTORIES.

Mrs. Randall Hutchinson looks after scholarships to keep in school boys and girls who must otherwise work to help support families—many pathetic cases.

"I am getting to be the worst beggar in the country," said the chairman of education for the Los Angeles District C.F.W.C., Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, yesterday. "I can always beg in behalf of children, and I am going right on begging to keep some of those in school who are now obliged to labor."

Though appointed chairman very recently, Mrs. Hutchinson has been identified with the work for some time as assistant chairman and as treasurer for the fund contributed by members of the Friday Morning Club. She is a familiar figure at the weekly meetings of this club, hovering near the door and reminding the members who have pledged support to scholarships for children that the money is due.

Gentle and retiring almost to a fault, this lovely woman never evades her duty to the children. "The money is promised and must be paid," she says. "Although others do not know it, she has made up many a deficit out of her own pocket."

Owing to the efforts of Mrs. E. B. Root, the retiring chairman, and of Mrs. Hutchinson and the other club women, Los Angeles now stands fourth among the cities of the United States in the scholarship work. Children are paid a regular wage for good conduct and attendance at school in cases where they would otherwise have to labor in shop or factory to support the family.

The National Child Labor Committee has taken note of what has been done in this city and asked for a report of last year's accomplishments, which was embodied in the national report.

Nineteen children have so far been beneficiaries of the scholarship fund here. The cases are reported through the Juvenile Court, which issues permits to children under 14 years of age to work. When the child is found to be deserving, and the family in need, the boy, or girl is kept in school and paid $1 a week.

Every Friday afternoon during the school session the small people gather at the Board of Education rooms, where Mrs. Hutchinson is paymaster. She has a talk with each one and many times besides the business of the moment are attended to by this quiet philanthropist. If a child is ailing, Dr. Hutchinson is very likely to have another patient on his list, and if any member of a family is troubled in any way, there is always help given.

Of the twelve children to whom scholarships were granted last year, only three had fathers and the mothers of five were too ill to do more than attend to housework. Seven other mothers were struggling bravely to get work by the day at sewing, washing or cleaning.

It is regarded as no small honor to be a scholarship child in a Los Angeles public school. There are nine of them now, and such interesting young people. One delicate little girl named Violet secured a scholarship through the late Mrs. Don Harrison. Her mother does exquisite lace work and embroidery, but must work without ceasing, for there are two afflicted children in the family and the father is dead.

A lad is cared for because his mother has to work all day in a restaurant and cannot give him any attention.

A German lad, whose family is distressingly poor, has never been seen to smile. There are nine children in the family, and the father deserted them last spring.

Another small boy, who works out of school hours, falls asleep at his desk often, and even the principal of the school has not the heart to awaken him.

NEW FIELD SECRETARY. Well-Known Congregational Minister Chosen to Raise Endowment for Pomona College.

Rev. E. F. Gott of Riverside, a hustling and competent member of the board of trustees of Pomona College, who has been selected as field secretary of the institution, with a commission to raise $100,000, was in this city last night. When Dr. George A. Gates tendered his resignation as president of the college, the trustees were all at sea concerning the finances, but seem to have arrived at a happy solution.

The situation is critical. Andrew Carnegie tendered the college $50,000 some time ago, providing they would raise $200,000 more. Dr. D. K. Pearson of Chicago, who had previously given the college $100,000, supplemented Mr. Carnegie's gift with another subscription of $25,000; the trustees will personally raise $50,000; the alumni have started on a fund of $10,000, and $15,000 more is in sight in $1000 subscriptions. This reduces the balance to $100,000, which has been "put up" to the new field secretary.

Mr. Gott made an immediate start as Claremont, where the college is located. He talked the matter over with the faculty, with the result that each of them pledged one month's salary to the fund, which gave him a start of $2500; the balance of the fund was not last night and agreed to raise $11,500 more, which is a big thing for a small town.

POE CENTENARY. EDGAR ALLAN POE: HIS ART, ACCOMPLISHMENTS, INFLUENCE.

TO HELEN.

Helen, thy beauty is to me Like those Nemean barks of yore, That gently, o'er a perfumed sea, The weary, way-worn wanderer bore To his own native shore.

On desperate seas long wont to roam, Thy hyacinth hair, thy classic face, Thy Naiad airs have brought me home To the glory that was Greece And the grandeur that was Rome.

Lo! in yon brilliant window-niche How statue-like I see thee stand! The agate lamp within thy hand, Ah! Psyche, from the regions which Are Holy Land!

—Edgar Allan Poe.

Edgar Allan Poe, Baltimore.

By WILLARD HUNTINGTON WRIGHT. One hundred years ago today, to Elizabeth Arnold, actress, and David Poe, law student, was born the greatest literary genius that America has ever produced. I use the superlative unqualifiedly. In all the swollen ranks of American writers there is not one who approximates to Poe in literary, artistic, critical or imaginative achievement. As yet it is impossible for a final judgment to be passed upon him, for a final place to be allotted him, but even now the influence of his art has formulated the best of all modern American literature. I mean not so much the direct temperamental influence or the narrow doctrinal influence of style or craftsmanship, but the great basic principle of anti-vulgarity which was exemplified masterfully in his own work.

Of course the more direct influence we find in any number of writers, not only American, but French and English as well. The matrix of Jules Verne's imagination was Poe; the arrangement and adjustment of his imaginative values were possible only after he had studied the master. The morphine-eating Holmes is but a refurbished prototype of M. Dupin, the hero of the "Mystère de la Rue Morgue" and "The Hound of the Baskin's."

But all this is beside the mark. Poe was the American protagonist of the artistic principle that art has nothing to do with morals. And it was this principle, given an impetus of which only a literary Titan such as Poe was capable, that has since been assimilated by the best writers of the world, through osmosis, our best literature. In using it, it may be well to do so with a certain reverence, for this principle is recondite and complex. The ethical and the moral should be dissociated with art, but they are reasons of consistency and etymology. Moral comes from the Latin mos, meaning custom, and ethics comes from the Greek ethikos, meaning also custom. Now, custom is only transitory, and is confined to an age, while art, which is the permanent, is universal and timeless.

For the sake of the art, the definition of the moral is antipathetic, and not only are they opposed, but they are contradictory. The moral is a social ideal, and the art is a personal ideal. The moral is a social ideal, and the art is a personal ideal. The moral is a social ideal, and the art is a personal ideal.

The volume of impetus which this principle has given American literature is incalculable. It has been a time when Cooper was dragging his weary length along through volumes of sustained narrative, when Hawthorne was considered literary and read by the supposedly erudite, when the greatest part of the literature of the New England school was creating a literature of painstaking field of literary endeavor was opportunity and advantage. It was his violently reactionary force which called for the greatest part of the literature of the New England school.

FAVORITE FOOD. WON'T HURT YOU. GIVE YOUR STOMACH A GOOD EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR DISTRESS.

Diagnosis will rid you of Stomach Trouble and make you feel fine. Why not start now and have this misery over with forever. Promptly digests your food and stops fermentation in the stomach.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep a case of Diapiesin in the house handy?

Anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and without a sour stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Diapiesin, then you will read and see why your cure indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, and prevent at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eruca, Eructations of acid, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Distension, Constipation and other Stomach Disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to get relief from indigestion with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of "Stomach Cancer."

This is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which will putrefy in the entire digestive tract and intensify, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Diapiesin.

One candy-like Triangule, taken after eating, will promptly digest all your food, the same as a strong, healthy stomach would do it.

That Stomach Causes Extensive Illness Grows In New York

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Harris called at the store where Cooper is in charge of the public, and when interviewed said: "I am only too willing to share what a remarkable experience I had with Cooper's New Discovery and what a wonderful medicine it is to be."

"I have had rheumatism for sixteen years, and I no longer have any rheumatism," she said. "I feel as though in the past week I feel as though I have been made over entirely, as I have no pains nor aches and eat three meals a day, with no indigestion or constipation."

"My two nieces and my sister-in-law had stomach trouble. When they came to the store they asked what the medicine was doing, and they all tried it. It has helped them all."
